Property Owners On West Pittsburgh Road Invited To Conference On Project

MEETING SCHEDULED FOR NEXT WEDNESDAY

Commissioners Want All Releases Signed Before Road Contract Is Approved

Whether or not the West Pittsburgh road is to be improved is now up to the property owners along the right of way. The bid of $61,156 by D. W. Challis and Sons, of Sewickley, which was opened by the state department yesterday is considered satisfactory by the county commissioners, but at a meeting this morning with Division Engineer Jackson, it was decided to ask the state to hold up the actual letting of the contract until all releases have been signed by property owners.

Controversy On Lines

There is some controversy over the lines of the road, and in order to get this straightened out, it was decided to ask that a state engineer be sent here next week. The county commissioners will meet the state engineer at 10 o'clock on next Wednesday on the road. All persons who own property along the right of way are requested to be present at the same time. Then if satisfactory releases are signed the road will be built, otherwise it will not. The county has become tired of (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Here is a good one for the golfers to try. At the municipal golf course this week there appeared a golf enthusiast, who wanted to play but when he reached in his pocket could find but two cents and the cost was twenty-five cents. He however overcame this little difficulty and wrote out a check for twenty-three cents and went on with the game. Again he paid two cents on the check as tax, his game cost him two cents more than under ordinary circumstances.

There will be little in the way of public observance of Labor Day in New Castle this year. However, there will probably be tremendous auto traffic on the highways as usual on a week-end holiday. Safety first should be the slogan of every driver on the road.

Next Thursday is the first day for registration of voters in New Castle in preparation for the coming November election. Every person in New Castle who wants to vote this fall must register prior to the election.

Information that bids were opened for the West Pittsburgh road improvement, at Harrisburg yesterday, was welcomed here. The concrete highway connecting New Castle and West Pittsburgh, via New Castle Junction, will be one that will prove a benefit for many citizens. It will probably be speedily constructed, so (Continued On Page Two)

THOUSANDS FLEE FROM RIO GRANDE FLOOD WATERS

(International News Service)
EAGLE PASS, Tex., Sept. 3.—Thousands of residents on both sides of the Rio Grande were fleeing to the hillsides today as flood waters of the big river swirled over the countryside.

It was feared that drownings have occurred, some reports stating that 12 persons have lost their lives. American and Mexican officials and relief workers were attempting to ascertain the number of probable casualties.

Mexican Town Under Water.
The Mexican town of Piedras Negras, just across the river from Eagle Pass, was under a heaving blanket of water and 15,000 inhabitants were estimated to have sought refuge on higher levels. Approximately 1,000 residents of Eagle Pass abandoned their homes on the river bank to flee to the hills.

One automobile, containing two people, was plunged into the flood waters when a highway bridge suddenly gave way. It was feared that both occupants were drowned. Numerous other automobiles were deserted along roads and it was thought many had been swept away by the onrushing waters.

Many buildings on both sides of the river collapsed and the railway bridge was demolished by the inundation. The deluge uprooted telephone and telegraph poles, curtailing communication with the outside world.

Public Schools Open Next Week

Some 11,500 Pupils To Be In Classes Starting On Wednesday

TEACHERS TO MEET HERE ON TUESDAY

Somewhere between 11,000 and 11,500 boys and girls of school age will view the opening of the coming week with mixed emotions. The school term of the New Castle school system opens on Wednesday morning, September 7, to continue for nine months. Every indication points to a much larger enrollment of pupils this year than has ever attended before and Dr. C. C. Green is fearful that some rooms may be overcrowded.

Preparatory to the opening of school, the teachers of the system, about 335 in number, will meet in the auditorium of the senior high school on Tuesday morning, September 6, for organization purposes and to get their instructions for the opening of classes the following day. In the afternoon the various principals will likely have building meetings where each school will prepare for the opening.

At the meeting on Tuesday morning, President of the Board Daniel B. Woolcock and Attorney Roy W. Hazen, a member of the board, will preside over the teachers' meeting of their turning back 20 per cent of their salaries the coming term in order to insure the schools being kept open for the full nine months. The meeting is called for 10 o'clock daylight savings time and will be presided over by the superintendent, Dr. C. C. Green.

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Sept. 3.—Raids conducted by Federal prohibition agents from Pittsburgh today resulted in the arrest of four men and the confiscation of a wildcat brewery, together with $10,000 worth of equipment and beer at Bensinger township, Elk county, and the seizure of a quantity of intoxicants at St. Marys.

The township raid, which is said to have yielded 20 half-barrels of beer, 2,400 bottles of ale, 40,000 labels and 3,000 empty bottles, brought about the arrest of John Detsch.

Those arrested and held under $500 bond for hearing before a commissioner at Clearfield were Paul Reich, C. L. Frody, and Isadore Ruben.

Jealousy, caused by rivalry over Miss Woods' affections, was described as the motive. Police had been working on the case for 15 months.

Armistice In Farmers' Strike

Await Outcome Of Projected Governor's Conference On September Ninth

STILL BLOCKADE HIGHWAYS IN IOWA

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Sept. 3.—The general armistice, declared by national leaders of the farm holiday, held good today throughout the grain belt, except for determined bands of strikers along the tier of western counties in Iowa.

"All clear" announcements were made at Omaha and Des Moines, but the strikers maintained their blockades of Lemars, Cherokee, Sioux City and Council Bluffs in western Iowa. Their leaders announced the strike would be continued until some definite program of agricultural relief was adopted at the conference of governors called to convene here September 9.

The strikers were cheered by the decision of Ohio farmers to join the holiday movement. They also expected the movement to gain when South Dakota farmers begin their holiday Monday.

Ellis Boyd Held For September Term Of Court On Manslaughter Charge

HEARING HELD BEFORE MANTZ

Companions Tell Of Events Which Led Up To Tragically Last Sunday Morning

Following a joint coroner's inquest and hearing before Coroner Orville Potter and Alderman L. C. Mantz in the office of the latter, last evening, Ellis Boyd, aged 21 of Harlansburg, was held for the September term of court on a charge of involuntary manslaughter by Alderman Mantz. Boyd was held responsible for the death of Gerald Hettenbaugh, who died in the Jameson Memorial hospital of injuries received when Boyd's car overturned on the Harlansburg road early last Sunday morning.

Several companions of Boyd and Hettenbaugh, who were members of a dancing party at Rock Springs Park on Saturday evening were the principal witnesses at the hearing and inquest and according to their evidence, Boyd had been drinking prior to the accident, and had overturned his car near Harlansburg just a short time before embarking with Hettenbaugh for New Castle when the second accident occurred which resulted fatally to Hettenbaugh, it was revealed.

Describes Events of Evening.
Harry Campbell, who resides near Harlansburg, was the first witness called.

He stated that he had gone to Rock Springs, south of Harlansburg to the dance Saturday evening. Others in the party being Hettenbaugh, Boyd, and the Misses Boyden, Emery, Ferguson, McCracken, and Lawrence Cunningham.

He stated that he went to the party in the car of Ellis Boyd, seven of them making the trip in the Ford roadster. After staying at the dance until around 11:30, standard time, they went to the Cunningham home at Harlansburg in Boyd's car. Hettenbaugh was not in the party at this time, but had gone to Harlansburg before them.

Threatens Girl; Wounds Brother; Then Kills Self

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 3.—Threatening his former girl friend in her home at Arnold shortly before midnight, Earl Walker, 30, shot and wounded her brother when he came to her aid, and then killed himself, according to a police report today.

Walker, alleged to have previously threatened Frances Cholko, 20, at a dance Thursday night, was being sought by police for the last two days.

Hiding himself in the living room of the home, Walker confronted the girl and threatened her. Her brother, George Cholko Jr., 16, attempted to grapple with him and was shot in the right shoulder, police said.

Rudy Grand Husband For Somebody Else

—MRS. FAY WEBB VALLEE

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Rudy Vallee makes a grand husband—for somebody else.

That was the way Fay Webb Vallee summed up her estimate of her famous crooner-husband today as she paused in Chicago, Reno-bound.

"He's wonderful," admitted the former screen star, but explained, "we just could not get along. In our fourteen months of married life we simply didn't agree on many things. Our temperaments clashed. Sometimes Rudy's engagements would keep him out until 3 a. m., then he'd have to leave again at 1 p. m. and I'd never even get to see him. What kind of married life is that, I ask you?"

ROOSEVELT WILL MAKE ADDRESSES

To Speak At Schenectady And Bridgeport—To Urge All To Vote

By RAYMOND I. BORST
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 3.—With the "Walker case" a closed book so far as he is concerned, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt today was to resume his drive for the presidency on two fronts—Schenectady, N. Y., and Bridgeport, Conn.

The governor was scheduled to speak at Schenectady at 11 a. m. and then motor to Bridgeport, where at nine p. m. tonight he will make his first public appearance in New England since launching his presidential campaign.

An appeal to the citizens of the country to "be sure and vote" at the November election will be made at Schenectady by Roosevelt in addressing the Young Men's Democratic League of that city.

While the governor has not revealed the subject of his Bridgeport speech, it is understood it will be a bid for the support of the Al Smith Democrats of Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

STEADY DRIFT TO HOOVER IS SEEN

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—"The economic machine is back on the highway, starting in low gear," declared Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the interior, who stopped in Chicago en route to Washington after a tour of the West.

"The people have a sense of relief that things are getting better," the secretary asserted.

"There is more and more a drift to the President," Dr. Wilbur stated in referring to the political situation. He said he believed that Hoover's acceptance speech won him many votes.

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)
BISHOP, Cal., Sept. 3.—Away up here in the mountains we got news last night by Indian runners that "Little Big Chief" Mayor Walker had resigned. Now how is New York going to tell when Mayor Walker has resigned, and when he ain't? They can't tell from his actions. "Moccasin Talk" just tells me that "Ma" Ferguson is probably nominated. I would like to ask a favor of my friends, no matter where they be.

If they have any flowers, old wreaths or crepe bows, to please send 'em to Amon G. Carter of Fort Worth, Tex. It's rather a pathetic case. He had always stayed clear of politics, but the summer heat got him, and he started to actively campaign against "Jim" Ferguson.

One hundred and twenty million people in the country and he picks out "Jim" to argue politics with. It would be like me arguing lip rouge with Greta Garbo. So send Carter any consolation you can.

Greenland Authorities Refuse To Provide Gas For Next Jump

DISAPPROVE OF PERILOUS FLIGHT

(International News Service)
COPENHAGEN, Sept. 3.—Apparently dashing his hopes of being history's first father to take his family across the Atlantic by airplane, the Danish Government today instructed Greenland authorities to supply no gasoline to Col. George Hutchinson of Baltimore, who arrived at Godthaab, Greenland, last night from Labrador.

A short while after word was received of the arrival of Col. Hutchinson's amphibian plane at Godthaab, Knud Oldend, the government's representative there, was instructed to inform him that there was no gasoline in Greenland except that belonging to the government.

This, it was pointed out, is kept for the disposal of recognized aviators carrying permits from the Danish government. Col. Hutchinson has no such permit, the government having refused to sanction his flight as too perilous a venture.

Opposition To Walker Making Race For Mayor

Effort To Seek "Vindication" Is Running Into Some Obstacles

HIS RETIREMENT MAY BE PERMANENT

Fusion Candidate In Opposition Likely, If He Is Candidate Again

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—While former Mayor James J. Walker's friends in Tammany Hall were paving the way for him to seek vindication at the polls in November, stiff lines of opposition began to form today with the avowed intention of keeping him in permanent retirement.

Out of the political chaos which has developed there emerged considerable talk that independent Democrats and Republicans would unite on a fusion candidate for mayor to oppose Walker in the event he cannot be stopped in the courts from running on a mayoralty ticket in the present "off" year.

Civic organizations which backed Samuel Seabury in his battle against Walker in recent months were lining up for the purpose of testing the legality of a majority election this fall in court by the expedient they hope to prevent the ex-mayor from submitting his case to "the supreme authority, the people."

Faces Three Hurdles.
Thus Walker, now recuperating from the strain of his long battle with Seabury, faces three hurdles in his fight for vindication: 1. He must secure the support of the five Democratic leaders of the counties comprising New York City if he is to run again; 2. litigation in the courts and 3. he must be physically fit to run.

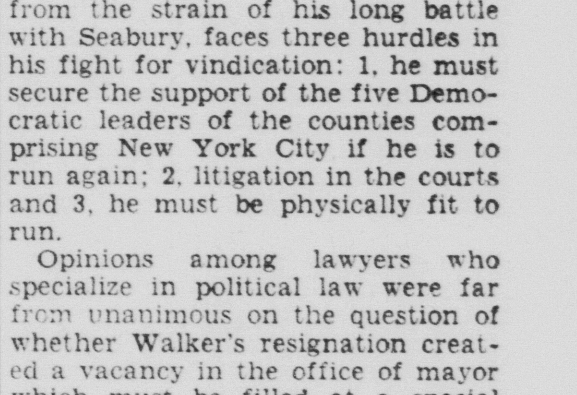

Opinions among lawyers who specialize in political law were far from unanimous on the question of whether Walker's resignation created a vacancy in the office of mayor which must be filled at a special election in November.

City Clerk Michael J. Cruise, a Tammany district leader, has declared, however, that such a vacancy in the office of mayor exists, thus preparing the way for a mayoralty election in which Tammany is determined to hold on November 8. Yet one Democratic leader, John H. McCooly, of Brooklyn, threw an element of uncertainty into the Tammany plan by asserting he was not so sure Walker would be the Democratic candidate in that election.

INDICT TWENTY FOUR IN PITTSBURGH PROBE

Political Leaders Included In List

June Grand Jury Makes Report Of Probe Late Friday Afternoon

$50,000 IN ENVELOPE FACTOR IN FINDING

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 3.—The June grand jury late Friday handed down indictments against 24 persons, a number of them political leaders, and charged that an envelope containing $50,000 was delivered to Roy Walters, private secretary to the late Joseph G. Armstrong, former chairman of the board of county commissioners, by the Duquesne Slag Products Co., which held a county contract.

The grand jury reported it was unable to determine whether Armstrong had used the money or it had been employed to make up a political campaign deficit.

Among those indicted were William H. Ziefel, former chief clerk to the county commissioners, who had been missing throughout the grand jury investigation; Walters, Edward M. Kenna, former county road commissioner; Watson Bowser, Kittanning contractor, and Howard Neely, Fourth Ward Republican chairman.

Three Groups Returned.

Three groups of indictments were returned, one dealing with alleged irregularities during Armstrong's regime as boss of the Republican organization and head of the county commissioners, another with alleged wholesale purchases of tax receipts, and a third with alleged failure of deputy tax collectors.

Among those recommended for indictment were:

William H. Ziefel, former chief clerk of the board of county commissioners.

James Routley, Ziefel's former principal assistant.

Edward Kenna, former county road commissioner.

Dave Roberts, assistant superintendent of county buildings.

Howard J. Neely, attorney and fourth ward Republican leader.

Watson J. Bowser, Kittanning contractor who hauled slag to the city-county airport.

Arthur Drumm, clerk in the county treasurer's office.

Ina Wayne, negro political leader.

Edward Sullivan, relative of Congressman P. J. Sullivan.

Gus Greenlee, "numbers" baron.

Howard B. Allen, former head of the auto division of the county.

Ziefel, Routley and Kenna, three political lieutenants of the late County Commissioner Armstrong, were named in the investigation of the purchase of gasoline by the county without contract.

Bowser was accused of perjury. Neely, Roberts, Sullivan, Ina Wayne and four others were accused in the tax receipt investigation. Drumm, formerly chief clerk in the treasurer's office, was charged with embezzlement.

The "campaign contribution" of the Duquesne Slag Co. was paid at the rate of 15 cents a ton on each of the several hundred thousand tons of slag used in constructing the $400,000 city-county airport. The slag company held the contract to supply this slag for filling and grading purposes.

To Post Bond.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 3.—Bond was expected to be posted in District Attorney A. T. Park's office today by a number of the 24 former county officials and politicians, who were named in indictments handed down by the grand jury probing county affairs and tax receipt frauds.

A few minutes after being indicted for perjury, yesterday, Watson O. Bowser, Kittanning contractor, who is reported to have made huge profits on a $200,000 contract for hauling at the county airport, posted $1,000 bond.

All of those indicted, except William Ziefel, former secretary of the board of county commissioners, are expected to post bond within the next few days, Park said. Ziefel, summoned to appear before the grand jury, has been missing from his home for several months.

Ziefel, along with William A. Shields, B. A. Seiple and H. D. Kolb, president, vice president and employee respectively of the William G. Johnston Company, was indicted by the grand jury on charges of conspiracy to cheat and defraud as a result of the probe into alleged contracts between the county and the company.

Indications in this phase of the investigation were that when municipalities desired election material for special elections, they would order the ballots through the county commissioners' office. Ziefel, it is alleged, would personally order the material and bill the municipality. It is further alleged that some municipalities were charged in excess of the bill rendered the county by the printing company.

Charges Denied.

The grand jury's investigation into a contract to furnish slag for the county airport resulted in the charge that Watson O. Bowser, Kittanning contractor, received a $205,561 contract for hauling the slag and paid a commission of five cents a ton to the Duquesne Slag Products Co. for helping to obtain the contract. This alleged payment to the slag company was denied by Bowser.

Ziefel, Roy Walters, private secretary to the late County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong, Howard B. Allen, former county superintendent of the bureau of motor vehicles; James E. Routley, clerk of the commissioner's office; E. M. Kenna, former county commissioner; C. C. Benz, employee of the county purchasing department; C. W. Doherty, a county accountant and John J. Gallagher, assistant county purchasing agent, were indicted on charges of conspiracy to cheat and defraud in connection with diversion of county gasoline to private use.

Charge Embezzlement.

Those indicted for illegally procuring tax receipts were: Howard Neely, Republican chairman of the fourth ward, David Roberts, assistant superintendent of county buildings, James Gross, Walter Rainey, Ina Wayne, Edward Sullivan, A. A. Donofrio and M. Ricci.

Alleged misappropriation of county tax funds was also investigated by the grand jury which returned indictments against M. R. Baldwin, deputy collector of delinquent county and state taxes for Corapolis and Arthur Drumm, deputy delinquent tax collector in Mt. Lebanon, on charges of embezzlement.

YOUTH IS HELD AFTER INQUEST IN AUTO DEATH

Cunningham home, a machine passed them on the right, and Boyd started after them to find out who it was. As they came to the Y on the Perry highway just east of the village of Harlansburg, Boyd's car struck a road sign and overturned, throwing all the occupants of the car out.

No one was injured. Campbell stated, but the tire was knocked off the rim on the right rear side of the car and the bumper and fenders were damaged. Later, he stated that one of the girls in the party named McCracken had been slightly hurt, her knee being bruised.

The party then went to Cunningham's where they had lunch and Boyd repaired the damage to his car. They remained there until around 1:30, after which they started to New Castle. The witness stated that he went in the car of Dale Wright, who was bringing some of the girls who resided in New Castle, back to their homes.

Come On Accident.

Boyd and Hettengaugh did not come with them, Campbell stated, but after they had gotten up over the hill out of Harlansburg, the car of Boyd with Hettengaugh in it, passed them. When they arrived at a point near Dean's barbecue, they came upon Boyd's car, turned upside down in the ditch with the lights on and the horn blowing.

There is a bend in the road at this point which swings to the right and the road goes downhill in the direction of New Castle, he stated.

Wright stopped his car, the members of the party getting out believing that Boyd and Hettengaugh were under the car. It had been turned completely around and was pointing towards Harlansburg, the witness stated. Just as they were going to lift the car to see if the two young men were under it, someone noticed them lying in the ditch about thirty feet back. Boyd was just getting up, but Hettengaugh was still lying in the ditch. When they came up to him, Hettengaugh complained of his back and legs hurting him.

The two injured youths were placed in Wright's car and brought to the office of Dr. Cleland, he said, who ordered them taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Had Drink.

On direct questioning by District Attorney John Powers, Campbell stated that they had stopped at a garage in New Castle before going to Harlansburg and Boyd and Hettengaugh had taken a drink. This was around 8:30 in the evening.

Cross-examined by Attorney Orville Brown, Campbell stated that he had not seen Boyd drink anything after that time. Boyd had made his own repairs on his car at Harlansburg, he said.

"Do you remember telling Coroner Potter and Highway Patrolman Stoops that Boyd had acted queerly at the dance?" District Attorney Powers asked, and Campbell stated that he didn't remember making any such statement.

Dale Wright, who was also a member of the party, told practically the same story as Campbell. He had driven his own car into New Castle with the girls, who was afraid to ride with Boyd after the accident at Harlansburg, he stated. When Boyd's car passed them before the accident it was traveling around 50 miles an hour, Wright said.

Wright was asked to describe the spot where the accident occurred in more detail, and stated that there is a slight bank at the spot where the accident occurred, but no deep ditch. The car had left the road on the left hand side and after running along the bank for some distance had overturned.

Stoops Testifies.

Highway Patrolman W. E. Stoops told of being called out to investigate the accident around 3:30 in the morning. He told of going to the scene of the accident and making the customary investigations, after which he went to the hospital to see the victims.

He was questioned about Boyd's condition, and described the apparent injuries he had received.

"From your observation, had Ellis Boyd been drinking?" Powers asked him.

"Yes," Stoops replied.

"On what did you base your opinion?"

"Well, I smelled it in his room and on his breath when I talked to him," Stoops answered.

Stoops said he questioned him about the accident and Boyd said it "had happened up around Niagara Falls." He said the other fellow had received a slight bump but that he had received a bigger one. He said that Boyd had admitted driving the car when he questioned him again on the following day.

On cross-examination by Attorney Walter Braham, Stoops stated that he did not know what might have been used on the bandages in dressing Boyd's wound, when Braham questioned him about the smell of alcohol in the room.

He admitted that Boyd's answers were not coherent and that he seemed in a semi-delirious condition.

He said that the car had traveled approximately 200 feet after leaving the road, had clipped a telephone pole, then gone up along the bank until it toppled over, the bank getting higher as it goes along, when asked to describe the accident scene.

Asked About Drinking.

Stoops said that he had asked Boyd the next day, when he again saw him, if he had been drinking and he wanted to know if he had to answer that question. Stoops said he guessed there was no law in Pennsylvania which would force him to, and Boyd told him he would not answer the question until after he had seen his lawyer.

L. L. Deen, who conducts a garage at Harlansburg, told about going after the wrecked machine shortly after the accident occurred and taking it back to his garage in Harlansburg. He said that the car had been damaged beyond repair, having been smashed all over.

Dr. W. D. Cleland told of Boyd and Hettengaugh being brought to his office early Sunday morning and of ordering them taken to the hospital when he found what condition Hettengaugh was in.

On examination at the hospital, he stated that he found Hettengaugh suffering considerably from shock. He had various contusions and lacerations about the face and legs, and a crushed pelvis. Death resulted about 8:15 Sunday morning, August 28, in the hospital from the shock resulting from the crushed pelvis.

He said Boyd had a puncture wound near the eye and a laceration extending down the left side of his face from that point.

"From your examination, did he appear to have been drinking?" Dr. Cleland was asked.

"Well, he had the odor of liquor on his breath," was the reply.

On cross-examination by Attorney Braham, he stated that he had examined Boyd with care because of his head injury, as often they find more serious injuries than at first is suspected.

There was quite an array of attorneys at the inquest and hearing. In addition to District Attorney John S. Powers, Attorney Alvah M. Shumaker was present representing the Hettengaugh family, while Attorneys W. W. Braham and Orville Brown represented Boyd and the insurance company.

The verdict rendered by the coroner's jury was as follows:

We, the members of the coroner's jury, find that Gerald Hettengaugh came to his death in the Jameson Memorial hospital at 8:15 a. m. August 28, 1932, of shock resulting from injuries suffered in an automobile accident on the Harlansburg road near Dean's barbecue, in Lawrence county, Pennsylvania, approximately five hours earlier. We believe the accident was the result of careless operation of an automobile driven by Ellis Boyd.

Alderman Mantz, following the hearing, announced that he would hold Boyd on a charge of involuntary manslaughter for the September term of court. Bail on the charge is to be fixed today.

The coroner's jury was composed of William S. Lewis, Carl Staebler, W. J. Isaac, E. E. Linsley, W. H. Reck and Charles E. Allen.

OFFICIALS AND ENGINEER PLAN JOINT MEETING

building roads and then having claims for damages filed. Sometimes there is merit to the claims, but more often the commissioners have found property owners to be unreasonable in their demands.

After a road has been built there is nothing left to do but to fight it out in court. In court actions the county is placed at a disadvantage through inability to get witnesses. Neighbors of persons who are claiming damages do not like to testify against them, no matter how unjust the claim may be.

Profit By Experience

In the light of past experiences the county does not propose to get into the position of having claims filed after roads are completed.

Where there is actual damage the commissioners are disposed to make a reasonable settlement, but they do not propose to make settlements and give damages where there is actually no damage sustained. In all cases the building of an improved road past a farm or other property, adds greatly to its value and owners are expected to take this into consideration, although the law does not provide for assessing benefits.

So far the residents of the West Pittsburgh road section have nearly all shown a disposition to be fair and go along with the improvement. Those who have not already signed releases are expected to be at the meeting of the commissioners and highway engineer on next Monday, to present their cases.

May Halt Work

What will happen if they do not do this will likely be the same as the action on the Hog Hollow road. When it was found recently that some of the property owners on this road were holding out for unreasonable damages, the work was stopped and the money which was to have been spent on the road, was allocated to other roads.

The county commissioners are positive in their declaration that all releases must be signed up on the West Pittsburgh road before they will approve the letting of the contract. The highway department has secured a very low bid for the work, and it now remains to be seen whether the property owners along the road are willing to do their part. If they are not it is likely that the money will be allocated to another section where there is more co-operation.

Law Of Diminishing Returns
Cottages In Forests
Children And Nervous Mothers

By MARSHALL MASLIN
There is a Law of Diminishing Returns.

It was devised for economics, for the business of making profits . . . but it applies to human beings and to nearly everything that men and women do.

A man finds a remote and lovely corner of the green earth in which to build a little hut where he may get away from the close and tortured living. . . . He finds peace and quiet there. . . . Soon another man finds that green neighborhood, and builds another hut a mile away from his friend. They have divided the solitude but it is still almost as before. Other men come, and still more, and more and more, all seeking peace and quiet. And finally none of them enjoy what each has sought for himself. It's the Law of Diminishing Returns at work.

A mother, devoted to her children, watches over them anxiously and wishes them to have every care and advantage. She wants them to be healthy, she wishes to be proud of her strong and lovely children. . . . She does not let them out of her sight for a moment, nor out of her mind a moment. . . . She clucks so closely about them that they are unable to grow freely and independently. They achieve no strength, gain no independence, and grow up to be fretful and restless adults. In trying to give too much, she has given too little. It is the Law of Diminishing Returns again.

A man is eager to be good, to do the right thing always. To be wise, to be respected, to be decent in every act. . . . He watches every act, every thought, as though he were his own jailer. His a conscientious, so eager for his own hard-won approval, that he loses all spontaneity, almost all rough and earthy impulse. Fearing to make a mistake of all, ceases to be his own natural self. He becomes the artificial, synthetic product of his own too-earnest ideals and people who would love that natural self if they but knew it turn indifferently away from the too-sweet character he shows them. . . . In trying too hard, he has achieved too little—and once more it is the inexorable Law of Diminishing Returns.

Men spoil the green earth and ruin their children and unsuit it to their own characters because they live in ignorance of that ruthless Law of Diminishing Returns.

RELIABILITY

If you cannot be relied upon to keep appointments or attend to the duties allotted to you, you don't amount to much.

You may be an expert in your line. You may turn out work of a superior kind but that does not make up for your failure to do it at the time it is expected of you.

Too many take responsibility too lightly. They give little thought to discommoding others by their laxity and failure to meet requirements promptly.

Such persons are apt to be slipshod in everything. They think that unusual makes up for lack of punctuality.

Today more than ever before, everything is made to dovetail more closely the allied efforts of those working in the same establishment. One person who fails to come to time with his or her share of the work puts everything throughout the place a cog or two behind schedule.

There must be general speeding up—making errors more likely. The one who is responsible for errors or delay is dropped.

NEVER YET

Has any nation prospered permanently at the expense of one class.

Has any law done entire justice to all parties.

Has any church promoted righteousness by attacking another church.

Has any community compromised successfully with lawbreakers.

Has any issue been settled until it was settled right.

Has any war been avoided by both nations bankrupting themselves to buy arms.

Has any book been made immortal by ballyhoo.

THE ROYAL LAW.—If ye fulfill the royal law according to the Scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, ye do well: but if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin and are convicted of the law as transgressors.—James 2:8, 9.

GIVING AWAY MONEY As soon as a man of great wealth contributes a substantial sum of money to a hospital, or a park, or a home, or to any other worthy cause, he is immediately maligned and abused. Such applause as he does receive is drowned out by a loud chorus of jeers and sneers—that he is actuated by some selfish motive, that the money he is giving is blood-money that had been ruthlessly squeezed from the helpless poor, that he is everything in the category of evil.

There are thousands of men possessed of great wealth, yet who hang on to their money as long as they live, after which it is quietly passed to posterity. The chorus never hears of them and they are therefore immune from the abuse that falls upon those who, whatever they may have done, or whatever they may have been, give away part of their wealth for the benefit of mankind.

It takes courage for a rich man to give away his money. I sometimes wonder why rich people ever give away money.

I sometimes wonder which course these people, who enjoy abusing the rich, would take if they should suddenly be struck by a windfall. I sometimes wonder whether I would have the courage to hand out millions for a worthy cause if I had the means, and the desire to do so.

Publicity Of Loans Believed Safe But Policy In Dispute

Safety For Small Institutions Receives Much Commendation In Discussion Of Work Of Reconstruction Finance Corporation

Publication of the list of institutions receiving loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has not interfered with the course of business, in the judgment of the press. The advisability of the policy of publicity for such aid is still a matter of dispute, however. It is attested in comments that the operations of the Finance Corporation have been beneficial and in some instances have prevented damage from the depression.

"The list published," according to the JERSEY CITY JOURNAL (Ind. Rep.), "refutes the contention of political critics that the R. F. C. is helping the 'big fellows' but not the 'little fellow.' The Journal contends that 'the publicity policy is the only really proper course to be followed in matters which affect public money,' and concludes: 'The confidence of business men everywhere should be increased upon having revealed in detail how large numbers of institutions, which might otherwise be forced to sell their securities at ridiculously low prices, have been able to borrow ready cash with which to meet current obligations, and at the same time to preserve intact their investments.'"

"The commercial banking commitments alone" in the opinion of the INDIANAPOLIS NEWS (Ind. Rep.), "bore on the private affairs of about 15,000,000 of the 40,000 Americans that are depositors. The feeling of stability thus encouraged tended to revive confidence, obviously, in the remaining 25,000,000. The aid provided in the insurance, money and railroad field unquestionably was similarly fruitful. In quieting the elements of disruption, the Corporation cleared the path for positive progress toward recovery."

"The fact that 70 per cent of the banks to which loans have been made are in towns of less than 5,000 population is convincing refutation of the charge that because a bank is small, it stands no chance of receiving help," avers the CHARLESTOWN (W. Va.) DAILY MAIL (Ind. Rep.). The CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR (Rep.) remarks that, "while there are some large amounts of small deposits in small, soundly-managed banks."

The KANSAS CITY STAR (Ind.) holds that "when there is recounted the story of a return to better days in America, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will need to be accorded an ample and highly creditable showing," declares: "It is shown that the great majority of borrowing concerns are in the small towns, institutions that are closely linked with community life, that all banks aided have a total of 15 million depositors, that one-half million farmers have received individual loans, and that uncounted millions of insurance policy-holders, members of building and loan associations and others have been assisted."

"Fortunately," says the CHARLESTOWN (S. C.) EVENING POST (Dem.), "banking conditions throughout the country have so greatly improved in the past few months that the publicity feature does not offer the threat it formerly did. That paper adds: 'Nevertheless, it is an undesirable feature and if it is mandatory in its terms, Congress should get rid of it at the next session.' The CHICAGO DAILY NEWS (Ind.) offers the judgment: 'If the publicity furnishes political capital for either friends or foes of the Administration doubtless full advantage will be taken of it. If, however, its effect is to weaken the credit of institutions which needed help and got it, the result will be mischievous at a time when the Federal government and innumerable private agencies are putting forth extraordinary efforts to bring about a general revival of business confidence.'"

"The information concerning loans" observes the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL (Ind.), "shows that for the period from July 21 to July 31, the greatest number was to banks in towns that most people had never heard of." That paper protests that "it is a pity that an institution created in a splendid burst of national co-operation, with a minimum of party antagonism cannot be kept out of the political campaign."

The SAN JOSE MERCURY, HERALD (Rep.), quoting a banker's statement that "he felt the publication of his application was injurious," charges that the publicity measure "is just plain demagoguery."

The BALTIMORE EVENING SUN (Ind. Dem.) declares, with a more favorable attitude: "The report of the Corporation's dealing for a ten day period still leaves considerable doubt as to the basis of the Administration's fears, because when the list of banks, building and loan associations, insurance companies, railroads, etc., is examined, it indicates that the affairs of the Corporation are being creditably administered. Small-town as well as city institutions apparently have been given intelligent assistance. In addition, the record for those ten days is a conservative one, without that ultra-conservatism that would defeat the purposes of the Corporation. The bill creating the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was an emergency measure, and as such has its disadvantages. But if its affairs continue to be carried on as they were during the latter part of July, the Administration will find that it and the Corporation will be subjected to little if any criticism."

"The R. F. C. has not been in any sense dispensing charity" observes the NASHVILLE BANNER (Ind.), "and it has made loans only on the best security of the latter part of July, the Administration will find that it and the Corporation will be subjected to little if any criticism."

He looked at me and smiled and said: "The contrary is true instead. So far as money is concerned, My father very little earned. His life was one of toil, and yet His memory I shant' forget. For when he died I knew that he Had not one single fear for me."

He knew that I could find my way. The wisest, bravest, kindest, sire. Knew just what wisdom I'd require. And taught me that, and passing on Such wealth as he was able to give. That all your hoarded dollars are!

Hope Seen For U.S. Trade Since Reparations' Debt Of Germany Is Lifted

By JAMES D. MOONEY
Vice President of General Motors Corporation.

Two very hopeful things have happened in the past three months that point to ultimate relief from the strangling influences that are destroying international trade and that are having consequently such a disastrous effect upon our own domestic welfare. The first of these things is the Lausanne agreement. If this agreement is followed through to its logical conclusion it will lift a crushing burden from the shoulders, not only of Germany, but of the whole world.

Our own sales in Europe began to show a better tone immediately this agreement was reached, but more encouraging still is the evidence provided that creditor nations are beginning really for the first time to examine the debts owing to them in a businesslike manner, and from the standpoint of their own enlightened self interest.

I might add that a favorable sign of the times is the growing recognition here in America that economic realities must be faced and that we cannot afford to fall behind the other er nations of the world in taking positive action to put ourselves out of the state of stagnation into which we have fallen.

There is, for example, an increased appreciation of the vital importance of foreign trade to our own domestic well being, and more general disposition to look upon the war debts as an element in our foreign trade position which must be dealt with far-sightedly and constructively.

Above all a new conception exists on every hand of the rather simple economic fact that maximum prosperity depends upon maximum trade, and that we cannot possibly become more prosperous by attempting deliberately to choke off our foreign commerce. This conception has led to a tremendous growth of sentiment favorable to the removal of those artificial barriers which are impeding the two-way exchange of goods internationally today and feel very certain that we shall follow the example of the other nations of the world in seeking mutual concessions that will secure to us the wide market for our goods that we so vitally need.

Rule Expects Record Enrollment—Many Economies Are Effective

(Special To The News)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 3.—Vacation days are ending for the more than two million school boys and girls of Pennsylvania. A few rural schools opened last week and many others open this week. Tuesday, Sept. 6, the traditional "day after Labor Day," marks the time when most of the commonwealth's great army of school children answer the first call of bells from more than 13,000 school buildings to greet their 65,000 teachers.

A new high record enrollment is expected in the public schools this year, according to Dr. James N. Rule, state superintendent of public instruction. The department anticipates more students than ever in high schools because of the unemployment situation, and thousands of high school graduates unable to find college or find work will seek a fifth year of training in post-graduate studies.

Unemployment also will bring increases in adult education enrollments. Hundreds without work will turn to night classes for new opportunities and avenues for profitable use of leisure time. State aid is available for such classes when organized in accordance with regulations established by the state council of education.

Economists in school district budget making suggested by Doctor Rule will become effective this fall, and practically every district will operate on reduced funds. He said directors and superintendents of all parts of the state have given assurance that administrative economies and efficiency measures have been introduced wherever possible, in keeping with maintenance of acceptable educational programs. Special loans and advancements have been made to some needy districts in order that they may conduct schools without loss of value to the pupils.

Public schools will enroll more than 1,900,000 pupils and may pass the two million mark, department officials said. Private and parochial schools will care for about 350,000 additional pupils. Evening classes in high school subjects will have 100,000 or more course enrollments.

Bishop Leonard Will Preside At Conference—Rev. Davis Host Pastor

OVER 225 MINISTERS NOW IN CONFERENCE

The 97th session of the Erie annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will open September 13 in the First M. E. church, Sharon. This is not the first time for the Erie conference to be held in Sharon. It was held there in 1885 with Bishop S. M. Merrill as presiding officer and in 1914 with Bishop William Burt presiding.

Bishop Adna W. Leonard, president bishop of the Pittsburgh area, will preside at the coming session. At the recent session of the general conference at Atlantic City Bishop Leonard was transferred from the Buffalo area to the Pittsburgh area, bringing with him the Genesee conference over which he was formerly bishop. At present the Pittsburgh area is composed of the Erie, Genesee, Pittsburgh and West Virginia conferences. Coming the first time as the resident bishop a warm welcome will be given to Bishop Leonard.

Rev. Davis Host.
The Rev. Homer B. Davis, D. D., pastor of the First M. E. church, Sharon, will serve as conference host. No member of the Erie conference is better adapted for this service than this genial pastor who is the friend of every member of the conference. During the recent months he has been kept busy preparing the program for the conference and places of entertainment for the delegates.

The Erie conference is composed of 275 ministers, including the effective, retired and supernumerary preachers. It represents a lay membership of nearly 70,000, a Sunday school enrollment of over 75,000, and an enrollment in the Epworth League, the young people's organization, of over 8,000. It represents an estimated property value in church buildings of $8,031,700 and $882,100 in parsonage homes. During the former year it made a contribution of $357,369 to benevolent causes.

U. S. STEEL SHOWS
GAIN AT CLOSING

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—With the rails and oils coming to the fore in the final dealings, the stock market closed one to four points higher today at new high levels for the recovery.

Trading was a broad affair all day, strongly at variance with the market's normal course prior to a double holiday. Successive buying rushes occurred during the two-hour session and the ticker was late twice, once as much as six minutes. Turnover was well over 2,000,000 shares.

Strength in commodities and bonds stimulated speculative enthusiasm. Cotton gained about $1 a bale higher and wheat gained more than a cent a bushel.

Western Union, Aircraft and Delaware & Hudson were the star performers with gains of about four points each. U. S. Steel rose more than a point and American Telephone two points. Profit-taking at the close whittled the gains down, but the undertone continued strong.

Auburn was a weak exception to the rest of the list, slumping nearly five points at the end in heavy trading. Rumors about earnings and dividends brought the selling and touched off stop loss orders.

Closing prices were: U. S. Steel 51½, up 1½; Bethlehem Steel 27½, up 3½; Youngstown Sheet & Tube 25½, up 2½; U. S. Ehlbeck Leaves Hospital Today

Driver Of Ill-Fated Car Reveals Wrecked Machine Was Owned By Him

WAS GERMAN NAVAL PILOT DURING WAR

Walter Ehlbeck of New York City, driver of the ill-fated car which took fire on the Butler Road, Wednesday night, after it had collided with a culvert, resulting in the death of little Jun. Berger, aged seven years, and injuries to four others, was able to leave the hospital at noon today and return to his home in New York.

Before leaving, he was questioned by Coroner Orville Potter, and some new angles which had not previously been brought out were revealed.

Owned Car
Ehlbeck, the driver, was the owner of the car he stated, and had been to Chicago with the Berger family, sharing the expense between them. He had left Chicago at 6:30 that morning enroute back to New York, and when they arrived here, had debated whether to remain in New Castle over the night or seek lodging at a tourist lodging place, finally deciding on the latter as it would be cooler.

Ehlbeck stated that when the tire blew out, and the car started to pull to the side of the road, he gave the car the gas to try and gain more speed, hoping to be able to pull the car back onto the road by this method. When he saw the culvert ahead, he realized he could not avoid missing it and put on the brakes.

German Naval Pilot
Ehlbeck was a pilot in the German naval air service during the war and has been in the United States for four years, having been engaged in booking German movies. Mr. Berger was engaged as a vaudeville theatrical booking agent, he stated.

The body of the little girl was shipped to Chicago over the B. and O. railroad last evening, where interment is to be made today.

Repairmen of the telephone company were sent to the scene of the trouble today.

But why are they called jay-walkers? The jay is a wary bird that won't let you come close enough to sock it.

Sheriff's Golf Team Ready For Return Match

Report issued by the police relative to the competition between the foursomes of the sheriff's office and the police department was greatly exaggerated and altogether too favorable to the police, according to Sheriff Frank N. Johnston, a member of the foursome of his office. And it was not the second defeat for the sheriff's at the hands of the police. In fact the last meeting was almost as much a victory for the sheriff's as the police according to Sheriff Johnston.

To prove their assertion, the sheriff's challenge the winners of the Police-News or Police-Firemen foursome matches, being willing to meet any of these aggregations and especially the police department team.

PREPARE TO START BIG CANNING PROJECT HERE

Relief Canning Project To Be Started Soon

Garden Club Women Will Again Supervise Canning Project For Needy

LOCAL PRODUCTS ARE TO BE USED

Under the direction of the Garden Club and the Mayor's Relief Committee, another canning project will be carried out this month, similar to that of last year, when thousands of cans of foodstuffs were put up and used in relief work here.

The Mayor's Relief Committee has agreed to provide the materials, which will include tin cans from the local plant of the American Can Company, and the tomatoes and other vegetables to be used, and the ladies from the Garden Club of which Mrs. W. C. Eckenrode is president, will supervise the work.

The plan as used last year gave women seeking assistance an opportunity to aid themselves by helping with the canning project, receiving in return, an apportioned share of half the materials canned. The other half went into the hands of the Mayor's Relief Committee and was distributed during the winter.

Women To Register.
It has been estimated by county authorities that the materials canned last fall saved an expenditure of approximately $20,000 for foodstuffs.

All women who desire to help in the canning project and receive their share under the plan, must register, registration will be carried out in the city council chambers on

Former Resident Of District Here After Many Years

Concludes Months Visit With Old Friends In This Locality

John Zimmerman of Fairfield, Montana, a native of this part of western Pennsylvania, but now a resident of Montana, where he has resided for more than half a century, with his daughters, Edith and Mrs. Alma Angle, have returned home after spending about a month with relatives and friends throughout this district. It was the first return trip to this section by Mr. Zimmerman in forty-two years and he was much surprised at the changes that have occurred here since he left here. While in this city during the present week, he and his daughters were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Dopp of 138 Winter avenue, the latter of whom is a niece, and Fred Strohecker, a brother-in-law and Mrs. Daniel Strohecker and family of the seventh ward.

Mr. Zimmerman was born and raised in Zelenople and when a young man, went to Montana. This was 56 years ago. He was one of the first white settlers in that big state and his wife, now deceased, who was Miss Eva Martin of Darlington, and a prominent school teacher of the Darlington district prior to her marriage, was one of the first white women there. He married her in this section just fifty years ago on September 5, 1932.

On Sunday, August 21, Mr. Zimmerman had the pleasure of worshipping in the German Lutheran church in Zelenople for the first time in exactly fifty years.

Mr. Zimmerman was a rancher in his earlier life, being a big sheep raiser. He has been prominent in the political life of Montana for many years, having served a term as sheriff at Choteau and also held many other offices. His daughter Mrs. Alma Angle, is at present post-mistress at Helena, capital of Montana. She is the widow of a veteran.

PINCHOT SIGNS MEASURE CUTTING GREATER COUNCIL

Appropriation For Greater Council Is Reduced To $90,000 By Governor's Action

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 3.—John A. McSparran, State Secretary of Agriculture, today had withdrawn as a member of the Allied Forces for Prohibition because the organization endorsed the candidacy of President Hoover.

Asserting there was no reason for dry supporters to admit the eighteenth amendment had failed or that a change was necessary, McSparran termed the endorsement of Mr. Hoover a "tragedy" in a letter of resignation sent to Dr. Daniel A. Poling, director of the allied organization.

The governor vetoed the Mansfield senate bill providing that tax claims shall bear interest from the date of filing.

The Greater Pennsylvania Council was created by the 1931 session of the legislature to promote the economic, social, industrial, agricultural, civic and recreation welfare of the state. The governor signed the economy bill without comment.

He said if he approved the Mansfield measure it would have the effect of increasing tax penalties to 18 per cent a year in third class cities and 12 per cent in the other municipal subdivisions.

Three other measures enacted by the last special session yet await the governor's signature or veto.

SLAYER KILLS SELF IN JAIL

Three Others Implicated By Prisoner's Confession Said To Have Threatened Him

KILBOURN, Wis., Sept. 3.—Frank Tylius, Kenosha bootlegger, who confessed to the police he plotted the slaying of Robert A. Wilson, real estate dealer, to raise money for a $1,800 liquor bill, hanged himself with his belt in the Kilbourn city jail. Guards found him dead when they went to call him for breakfast.

He was one of the four men held in connection with the slaying of Wilson, whose body was found in a shallow grave Wednesday near Lodi, Wis.

Tylius, on whose confession the other men were arrested, officials said, had been the object of threats on the part of the other defendants who had warned him "to keep his mouth shut."

Chicago Cubs Win Thirteenth

Streak Of Cubs Is Extended To 13 Games, Yanks Escape White-wash

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The 1932 record winning streak of the Cubs—now comprising 13 games—and the dramatic and successful efforts of the Yankees to escape a shutout, continue to provide thrills for fans who can derive no enthusiasm from poring over the standing of the clubs in the pennant races.

On two successive days Washington pitchers have blanked the Yankees up to the ninth inning only to see the McCarthymen dodge the kalsolme brush in the final frame.

Yesterday Pippo Marberry, who twirled a one-hit game recently, held the Yankees scoreless with four hits for eight innings and retired the last three batters. Then Ruth walked and hungry Lou Gehrig smote a tremendous triple to center field, scoring Ruth. The game ended with the score Washington 7, New York 1.

Already holders of the 20th century mark, the Yankees equaled a record that has stood since 1894 for 13 consecutive games played in a season without a shutout. They can set a new all-time mark by scoring against the Senators today.

Lead Is Cut.
New York's lead over the Athletics was cut to 9½ games, the Mackmen thrashing the Red Sox twice, 7 to 3 and 15 to 0. Eric McNair smacked three homers, Simmons got two, Williams one and Jimmy Fox clouted his 49th, putting him only 11 behind Babe Ruth's record.

Krause, Connie Mack's young southpaw, held the Sox to six hits in the nightcap, while three Boston pitchers yielded 14 hits and 12 passes. An 8 to 5 win over the Cardinals stretched the streak of the Cubs to 13 straight, the longest in the majors this year and the longest made by a Cub team since 1928. Grimes and Root hurled for the winners.

Pittsburgh took a firmer hold on second place, winning its sixth game in succession as Larry French gained a 2 to 1 decision over Red Lucas of Cincinnati. Traynor and Thevenon drove in Pittsburgh's runs.

George Blaeholder of the Browns outpointed Ted Lyons of the White Sox 3 to 1. Other teams were idle.

St. Andrews Tops Ellwood City, 5-4

St. Andrews church mushball team topped the Ellwood City team 5 to 4 in a fast and well played game at the Ellwood City field last evening. The series between the teams is now tied up at one apiece. The same two teams will play a double bill at Gaston park field this city Monday Labor Day. The first game will start at 3:30 p. m. and the second game at 6:30 p. m. In the game last night Owens featured with a home run. It was a real pitching duel with Babs and Patterson the flingers, the former allowed only five hits and Patterson let the St. Andrews down with three hits. Errors were quite frequent.

Score by innings: R. H. E. St. Andrews . . . 010 022 000—5 3 6 Ellwood City . . . 020 002—4 5 4 Batteries—Ellwood: Patterson and Uber. St. Andrews: Babs and W. Riley.

Should Bessemer upset Scarazzo today the Tigers will get a chance to play for the second half title of the Lawrence loop. Should Scarazzo win today they will possess the flag. They won the first half bunt-ing.

Mahoning A. A. defeated the Old Timers four to two in a twilight game yesterday. It was a good game.

Lefty Miller will pitch one game for Volant and Steve Hutmick will hurl one game for Mahoning when they clash in a twin bill Monday.

As Scarazzo has apparently won the Lawrence title the game with Greenville, Mercer county champs, Monday at Cents' field should pull a big crowd.

Mahoning To Play Volant

First Game At E. & A. Field And Second At Volant Monday

Mahoning and Hillsville battled at Hillsville this afternoon in the first of a five game series for the Twilight league title and Monday will stage a doubleheader with Volant.

The first game with Volant will be played on the E. & A. field here and the second game will be staged at Volant. The games will start at 2 p. m. and 4 p. m. D. S. T. respectively.

Mahoning has played very good baseball this season, the fact being borne out by their participation with the Hillsville for the championship of the Twilight league. Volant has also played good ball and of the games they have played with Mahoning they have been outged only by one game, if recollection serves correctly.

Crawley Puts Dent In Famous Cup On Lawn Of Clubhouse

British Walker Cup Player Hits Terrific Ball On Final Tee, Hits Trophy Cup

(International News Service)
BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 3.—Leonard Crawley, the golfer, may not be able to win the Walker cup for England, but nobody can say that he hasn't made an impression. Playing to the eighteenth green in his match with George Voigt Friday morning, Crawley carried so far beyond his original target that the ball fell among the spectators on the club house lawn and hit the Walker cup itself with a resounding smack. Crawley ultimately lost the hole and the match was squared but the renowned trophy now owns a perfectly good dent it didn't have before.

Lockleys Upset Smiths, 3 To 1

Lockley's star mound ace, Mauri, limited the fast Smiths to eight hits last night at Lehigh field and the Lockleys batted out a 3 to 1 victory over the south siders in an important city mushball league game. A large crowd witnessed the game.

The Lockleys got to Pascarella in the fourth for a run to tie the score and scored again in the sixth and seventh. The Smiths could not hit Mauri effectively. Isabella and Melder had triples, while Lutz, S. Lockley, Kaufman, Tex Richards and Vigali had doubles. Mauri fanned 10 batters. Young and Isabella led the batters with three hits apiece.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Smiths . . . 001 000 000—1 8 1 Lockleys . . . 000 101 107—3 12 1 Batteries—Lockleys: Mauri and Young; Smiths: Pascarella and Tex Richards. Umpires—Bishop, Babosky and Ross.

Mahoning A. A., champions of the National division of the Twilight League, handed the Old-Timers a 4 to 2 setback in a well played game at E. & A. field last night. Perritta, on the knoll for the Mahonings, gave the Old-Timers only five hits. He fanned six. Smith, on the rubber for the Old-Timers, allowed eight hits. It was a real Old-Time game.

Dean hurled the only no-hit game of the season for the Harlansburg team this season. The perfect game was pitched against Portersville, with Harlansburg winning 4 to 0.

Dean was also the leading pitcher on the roster winning 11 games and losing but one. Studenaker won four games and dropped none. Harlan, Brooks and Cunningham each pitched a victory. Dean, Miller, Blaine and Lackey were the losing pitchers.

Waterways Advisory Board Recommends Steps To Fight Rate Cutting On Railroads

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The recommendation of the advisory board of the United States owned Inland Waterways corporation that the government join with independent boat lines in the formation of an association to fight railroad rate cutting created a sensation.

Secretary of War Hurley, who governs the Inland Waterways corporation, was expected to confer with General T. Q. Ashburn, its president. All recommendations of the corporation's advisory board are subject to the approval of the secretary of war.

In a statement explaining its decision to recommend that the government unite with private boat lines in the joint establishment of an association for the "advancement and protection of mutual interests," the advisory board said it was moved by charges that the railroads were making "persistent efforts to destroy independent operations through constant reduction of railroad rates beyond reasonably compensatory rates."

The charges were made before the board by A. P. Calhoun, vice president of the American Barge Lines company. After hearing Calhoun's testimony, the board passed the following resolution:

"In view of representations made by Mr. Calhoun, this board recommends that the Inland Waterways corporation join with independent boat lines in the formation of an association for the advancement and protection of mutual interests."

crease in business, and council agreed to send a letter stating its position.

The letter was received stating that council was agreed to the proposal. The Pennsylvania Company, however, managed to keep on the watchmen on the two turns that are to be taken off, from four p. m. to seven a. m. Now it has become absolutely necessary to reduce the cost at this crossing, and the company in accordance with council's letter proposed making the move. The council took exception yesterday, forgetting the former action in the matter. After the explanation this morning members of council expressed their regret at their hasty action of Friday and the Pennsylvania railroad will proceed to carry out its intention.

New Request Made By Pennsylvanians For R. F. C. Funds

Request Repeated By Pennsylvania Officials Friday For $10,000,000

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—A new request for $10,000,000 relief loans for the state of Pennsylvania was presented to the Reconstruction Finance Corp. Friday by W. B. Rodgers, state welfare director, and Mrs. Alice R. Liveright, executive director of the emergency relief board of the state.

These officials conferred with Fred Croxton, handling state relief applications. Croxton then appeared before the board of directors.

Some time ago the board refused to grant a loan to Pennsylvania on the ground the state had not done its part in providing funds for relief work. Since that time the Pennsylvania legislature has acted.

is what Mr. Rodger Babson, whose business is to study financial conditions, is said to be paid by bankers and others for his advice.

Here is what he says about the RETURN TO PROSPERITY:

"The need of the hour is not more legislation. The need of the hour is more religion. More religion is needed everywhere, from the halls of congress at Washington, to the factories, the mines, the fields and the forests. It is one thing to talk about plans or policies, but a plan or policy without a religious motive is like a watch without a spring or a body without a breath of life."

Every man and woman in New Castle must take this as a personal message and not selfishly say "Let George do it."

Read the history of the six terrific panics we have had since 1837 and what cured them.

We must have faith in God—faith in fellowman—faith in ourselves.

Revolving Fund Is Established

Federal Land Banks In Need
Of Additional Capital
May Draw From New Fund

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Establishment of a revolving fund upon which Federal Land Banks in need of additional capital may draw was announced by the Treasury Friday.

The credit reservoir is built out of the proceeds of the retirement of government owned stock in the land banks. The first retirement, following congressional action authorizing the Treasury to increase its stock holdings in the banks by $125,000,000 took place when ten of the twelve banks made repayments of $190,880.

This was the first repayment on the emergency stock subscription of the government. The banks at Springfield, Mass., and Berkeley, Calif., which are still repaying on the original government subscription made in 1917 did not join in the current operation.

The largest payment was from the Federal Land Bank at Omaha, amounting to $34,915. Other payments were:

Baltimore, 7,130; Columbia, S. C., $130; Louisville, $4,165; New Orleans, $1,620; St. Louis, $505; St. Paul, $11,610; Wichita, $8,400; Houston, $24,270 and Spokane, $8,135.

The payments were regulated by the capital stock subscriptions received by the banks from national farm loan associations during the last semi-annual period.

Chaplin Wins His Fight, Sons Will Not Enter Movies

Chaplin Successful In Getting Amendment To Divorce Decree

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.—Charlie Chaplin, famous screen comedian, Friday won his fight to keep his two young sons out of the movies.

Superior Judge H. Parker Wood ruled favorably on the petition of Chaplin to amend the divorce decree of Chaplin and his former wife, Lita Grey Chaplin, preventing either parent from allowing the children to be employed.

Mrs. Chaplin, custodian of the two boys, Charles Spencer Chaplin, Jr., 7, and Sydney Earl Chaplin, 6, had already signed a contract for the children with a major Hollywood studio.

There are other spots where you can see queer looking freaks and believe it or not the greatest collection of oddities is found right near home, in a glass of water that has not been purified. Your lily pond for example contains creatures that look like a throwback to the Paleozoic age.

You never saw them probably and you never will unless you put samples of water under a microscope. And the microscope, with a field not more than one hundredth of an inch in size will give you the most interesting show you've had in a long time.

Was out in the laboratory of the New Castle Water Company yesterday getting the low down on the water microbes or insects or bacteria or ferns or animals or whatever is the proper term. After seeing all those living geyser-like swimming around, watching them feed, and observing their other antics, we'll take a glass of purified water if you don't mind. No more drinking out of unknown springs.

All of them are transparent, impossible of seeing through the naked eye. There is the amphora, and the rotifera, the diatomus and the diatomocae and all their cousins. All of them have hearts and lungs which can be seen working away as industriously as a clock work. One of them, the rotifera takes his food in through a pair of windmills which keeps whirling around drawing in the lunch.

Sometimes they have horns like a goat. Not all of them are harmful of course for in a glass of ordinary water we take in a load of organisms which if they were harmful would have the undertakers working nights.

Minute particles of vegetable matter take on the most gorgeous shapes under the glass. Like sponge banks, or coral reefs, through which the water animals keep darting through grabbing off a light lunch. How the creatures propel themselves is a mystery. Their seems to be no effort and yet they glide through as gracefully as a ray of light.

An odd afternoon, one that sounds just a trifle balmy to talk about but nevertheless stands out as interesting, instructive and more than a little amusing.

Saw something new in the way of a congratulatory card last night. A couple of lads about town with artistic ideas prepared a card some four feet long and three feet wide bearing a picture, a message, and the signed names of a hundred or more friends. The card or rather the junior bill board is in honor of a new young lady that arrived in the home of a local couple.
